INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To: The Board of Directors of Women for Afghan Women, Inc.
Women for Afghan Women - Afghanistan

We have audited the accompanying combined financial statements of Women for Afghan Women, Inc. (a U.S. nonprofit organization) and Women for Afghan Women - Afghanistan (a foreign, Afghanistan nonprofit organization), which comprise the combined statement of financial position as of December 31, 2017, and the related combined statements of activities, cash flows and functional expenses for the year then ended, and the related notes to the combined financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these combined financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of combined financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these combined financial statements based on our audit. We did not audit the financial statements of Women for Afghan Women - Afghanistan, a foreign corporation, for which its activities and components are identified in the accompanied statements of financial position, activities, cash flows and functional expenses under the column headings WAW Afghanistan. These statements were audited by another auditor, Grant Thornton Afghanistan, whose report has been furnished to us, and our opinion, insofar as it relates to the amounts included for Women for Afghan Women - Afghanistan, is based solely on their report. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the combined financial statements are free of material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the combined financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the combined financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the combined financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the combined financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, based on our audit and the report of the other auditors, the combined financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the combined financial position of Women for Afghan Women, Inc. and Women for Afghan Women - Afghanistan as of December 31, 2017, and the combined changes in their net assets and their cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

1. Nature of Activities and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

Basis of accounting: The combined financial statements of the Organization have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting and accordingly reflect all significant receivables, payables, and other liabilities.

Basis of presentation: In accordance with GAAP the Organization is required to report information regarding its financial position and activities according to three classes of net assets: unrestricted net assets, temporarily restricted net assets, and permanently restricted net assets. In addition, the Organization is required to present a combined statement of cash flows.

Revenue recognition: All contributions are considered available for the Organization's general programs unless specifically restricted by the donor. Amounts received that are designated for future periods or restricted by the donor are reported as temporarily or permanently restricted support and increases in the respective class of net assets. Contributions received with temporary restrictions that are met in the same reporting period are reported as unrestricted support and increase unrestricted net assets.

Grants receivable/due to grantors: The Organization received several grants from the U.S. Department of State for program activities in Afghanistan. In accordance with the grant provisions, the Organization either receives grant funds following the disbursement of approved expenses or is authorized to receive funds in advance of anticipated expenditures. All unreimbursed expenses as of period-end are recorded as grant receivables and all advanced funds not expended are recorded as either refundable advances or deferred income.

Donated services: Some personal services are donated to the Organization by various individuals. The value of the contributed time is not reflected in the accompanying financial statements since the volunteers' time does not meet the criteria for recognition.

Functional expense allocation: The direct costs of providing various programs and other activities have been summarized on a functional basis in the combined statement of activities and in the combined statement of functional expenses. Accordingly, certain costs have been allocated among the programs and supporting services benefited.

Management and general expenses: The Organization classifies expenses, which are not directly related to a specific program, as Management and General expenses.

Estimates and assumptions: Management uses estimates and assumptions in preparing these combined financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Those estimates and assumptions affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities, and the reported revenues and expenses. Actual results could vary from the estimates that were used.

NOTES TO COMBINED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Nature of Activities and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

Property and equipment: Purchased property (consisting of furniture and fixtures and equipment) are stated at cost, less accumulated depreciation. Donated property and equipment are stated at fair value on the date of donation, less accumulated depreciation. Depreciation is computed on the straight-line basis over the respective assets' estimated useful lives of three to five years. Expenditures for maintenance and repairs are charged to current operations. Property and equipment purchased with funds associated with, and in accordance with the contractual provisions of domestic and foreign government agency grants, have been expensed and are included in expenses reported on the statement of functional expenses. All property and equipment whose value is deemed negligible or of little value has been written off.

Contribution receivables: Contribution receivables that are expected to be collected within one year are recorded at their net realizable value. Contribution receivables that are expected to be collected in future years are recorded at the present value of estimated future cash flows. All receivables are expected to be received within one year and as such have been stated at their net realizable value with no allowance for uncollectable contributions.

2. Concentration of Support

The Organization received a majority of its total annual revenue from the U.S. Department of State and several foreign governmental or U.N. subdivisions. The grantors have indicated their desire to continue providing significant contributions to the Organization for the foreseeable future. However, a discontinuation of funding from any one or more of these U.S., U.N. or foreign governmental agencies could put the viability of the Organization at risk.

3. Foreign Currency Gains and Losses

Foreign currency assets (i.e. foreign bank accounts) are translated into U.S. dollar equivalents based on month-end exchange rates. Foreign generated support and revenue and expenses are translated at the average exchange rates. Losses from foreign currency translation are included in other income/(losses) in the combined statement of activities in the amount of $6,992.
